The 13th IPC Meeting Athens, Greece

The 13th IOL Power Club Meeting will be held in the historic city of Athens. Of course this is a very special place in the history of mankind – the cradle of civilization. Many of us have never seen it.

Our meeting will take place September 15-16, 2017. It is chaired and organized by Co-Chairs: Drs. Kenneth J Hoffer and Giacomo Savini.

IPC meetings are open to members, sponsors and invited guests only. Participants wanting to make one or more presentations should contact Giacomo at Giacomo.Savini@alice.it.

Topics for presentations and discussions are:

- Biometry: measurement of ocular parameters.
- Determination of corneal power.
- IOL position (measurement and prediction.)
- IOL power determination (formulas and methods).
- Phakic and pseudophakic IOL calculation.
- Premium IOLs including Toric and Multifocals.
- Calculating Astigmatic Toric IOL power.

By popular demand, each presentation is scheduled for 10 minutes with 10 minutes of discussion. The discussions are essential and the very spirit of IPC and have again been expanded for this meeting. As usual there will be a social program which spouses are encouraged to attend. It will include cultural and culinary experiences, as you have been used to at all IPC meetings in the past.

The meeting starts at Noon on Friday, September 15th and runs to Saturday, September 16th at 5:00 PM with ample time for everyone to get home. There will be a Welcome Reception at 6:30 PM on the evening of Friday, September 15th, followed by a Dinner for all.

The meeting venue is the Grande Bretagne Hotel at 1 Vasileos Georgiou A in the center of Athens, +30-210-333-0000. On booking please refer to “IOL Power Club” or “IPC”. There are also many other options nearby in the city center (www.Booking.com).

Meeting details will be posted on www.iolpowerclub.org and be updated as they develop. Further details will be sent to you later.
